

Weather

More of the same fine weather will visit the valley today, with clear skies and temperatures in the mid-70's to low 80's forecast. There will be the typical night and morning fog on the coast and the lows will plummet to the 50's. Winds will pick up this afternoon and small craft warnings are up.

It's almost that time of year...

There is no proof that the students of Mrs. Barbara Weber's first grade class at Fairlands School are as happy about "back to school" as their teacher, but that doesn't change the fact that Thursday, Sept. 4 is the big day. A full page of school pictures appears on page 6 of today's Times.

County's mammoth study 'Solid Waste Report' raises questions, offers no answers

After more than two and a half years of concentrated effort, Alameda County officials have determined they do not know what to do with garbage.

More than one million tons of waste matter is generated in this county each year at present, and that figure is certain to increase in the future.

Alternatives ranging from land fill to total reclamation are listed in the recently completed Alameda County Solid Waste Management Plan but that inch-thick document does not offer any solutions.

The plan was prepared by the 23 members of the Alameda County Solid Waste Management Plan Advisory Committee, more than 30 members of an ancillary technical committee and several members of the county planning staff.

The plan does not offer specific solutions or recommendations, Betty Croly of the planning department said, because it is a "policy document" and must be formally ratified by the board of supervisors and the state before a specific plan can be formulated.

The draft, which contains a generalized Environmental Impact Statement, will be distributed to the 13 cities in the county for their comments.

In addition, the county has scheduled a public hearing for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 25 to take testimony from citizens in the unincorporated areas.

The county planning commission will hold additional hearings in October followed by further hearings before the supervisors in November and December. Under state law, the plan must be adopted by Jan. 1, 1976.

At present, there are 10 dump sites in the county and most of them are either at capacity or will soon reach capacity.

Much of the county's population — and consequently, much of the garbage — is centered in "the urban western portion of the county in the 30-mile-long coastal plain between Fremont and Berkeley" and there are few areas remaining in that section in which to locate dumps or land fills.

There is land available in the Livermore-Amador Valley for larger dump sites but the two proposals in the valley — the controversial Kaiser dump and Oakland Scavenger's announced plans for a land fill in the Altamont — are not mentioned in the report.

The plan admits the existence of a "disposal problem" but also states the "rapidly developing technology of resource and energy recovery and the continued cooperation of government and industry also creates many opportunities for improving inadequacies in today's waste management systems."

The report recommends the creation of a series of five-year action programs for the next 25 years in order to maintain the maximum "flexibility over the short, mid and long range."

Alternatives in the first proposed five year plan range from projected resource recovery of less than 10 percent to reclamation of nearly 70 percent of materials.

The wide range of figures, the report states, result from major obstacles related to public financing of such resource recovery proposals and the resolution of "minor technical questions."

According to the report, the five-year plans should each address problems of "plan administration (including regulation and enforcement), management and operation, legal and legislative, finance, regional coordination, public information, and research and planning."

Until the plan is officially ratified by the supervisors and the state, those five-year plans will not be specifically formulated. Once the plan is ratified, however, all future solid waste disposal proposals in the county will have to conform to it.

School bus cutbacks listed for Amador - Pleasanton

PLEASANTON — One route has been eliminated along with four stops on two other schedules, according to Mike Ananos, transportation director for the Amador-Pleasanton schools.

"Bus S", serving Valley View School kindergarten children, has been cut. The route would have served students returning home to stops at Vintage Hills School, Touriga and Chardonnay and Sylvaner.

The same designated bus will now make runs between Vineyard Avenue stops and Valley View School.

Eliminated will be stops at Chardonnay and Sylvaner, Vintage Hills and Touriga (by cyclone fence). The bus will begin its morning run with a 7:44 stop at Vineyard-Tammerlane and then proceed to Vineyard-Almaden winery, Vineyard-Isabel turnaround, Vineyard-Safreno's, Vineyard-No. 2287 and arrive at Valley View at 8:05 a.m.

"Bus S" will begin its afternoon return run at 1:45 from Valley View and complete the run at Vineyard-No. 2287 at 2:15.

On the bus designated "Q," one stop has been eliminated. The schedule starts at Tassajara Road and Brick Barn Stables at 8:05 a.m. and makes stops at Tassajara-Finley's, Tassajara-Heston's, Tassajara-Greek Oaks Stables, Tassajara-Casterson's and Fairlands School, arriving at Pleasanton Elementary at 8:35. The stop at Fairlands School has been eliminated.

On the afternoon run, "Q" will leave Pleasanton Elementary at 3 and complete its run at Tassajara and Casterson's at 3:35 p.m.

One schedule, linking Mohr Avenue and the Tassajara area with Fairlands School, has been changed from "S" to "D."

One stop has been added to Bus P's route. It starts the morning run at 8:17 a.m. at the end of Mohr Avenue and makes stops at Fairlands, Harvest Park and Pleasanton Elementary, the latter being the new and final stop. The return run in the afternoon begins at 2:55 from Pleasanton Elementary.

New policy in maternity unit

LIVERMORE — Beginning soon, Valley Memorial Hospital will ban all but new fathers and grandparents from visiting maternity patients.

The new policy was approved Thursday night at a meeting of the VMH board. Currently, patients are allowed two visitors at a time but nurses complain that the restriction is often ignored and "we get overrun."

In addition, the new rules will make it easier for new parents to have a "rooming-in" arrangement during the mother's two- or three-day hospital stay. "Rooming-in" is a plan where the baby stays in the mother's room all day and is returned to the nursery at 9 p.m. for the night. Because newborn babies and new mothers are vulnerable to infection, doctors don't like to allow rooming-in if there's going to be a stream of visitors.

Under the new regulations, fathers will be allowed to visit all day, while grandparents will have to adhere to a 2-4 p.m. and 7-8 p.m. visiting schedule.

Livermore man charged with mayhem

LIVERMORE — A Livermore man who allegedly used his car to run down two Pleasanton men on a motorcycle was booked for assault with a deadly weapon after an early Saturday morning incident.

Anthony James Maniz, 18, of 4245 Drake Way in Livermore was arrested by Livermore police Saturday morning after Thomas Salvador Guadagna, 18, and Steven Alan Randall, 19, of Pebblewood Court in Pleasanton were run over.

Guadagna was dragged nearly 100 feet by the car and was treated for a broken back, broken ribs, a broken left hand and numerous lacerations.

Randall suffered a broken ankle.

Reportedly, the incident grew out of an earlier occurrence on Stanley Boulevard. There, Earlene Randall claimed she was forced off the road and someone threw rocks at her car.

Her brother and Guadagna then pursued the car allegedly involved and after forcing Maniz' car to slow down, Maniz purportedly gunned the engine and ran over the motorcycle.

Randall's ankle was broken, but Guadagna was dragged by the car for some distance.

Guadagna was listed in satisfactory condition in the intensive care unit yesterday.

Spiliotopoulos probe

Sheriff says why full report remains secret

Those reports exonerating an Alameda County Deputy Sheriff of any wrongdoing last month in his alleged fracas with county planning commissioner George Spiliotopoulos "will not be released," according to sheriff Thomas Houchins. Claiming the month long study was an "internal investigation" into Spiliotopoulos' charges he was roughed up at the Santa Rita Rehabilitation facility, Houchins said it was a "matter of policy" not to release the complete report.

The initial report by deputies alleging resisting arrest by the former Pleasanton City Councilman was made available to his attorney, Houchins pointed out.

The complete packet, however, including testimony by six of nine inmates and eight deputies present during the incident, and polygraph — lie detector — tests given both Spiliotopoulos and deputy Bruce Munn, will not be released.

In a three page press release issued last Tuesday, Houchins claims the planning commissioner's lie detector test "reflected emotional disturbances indicative of deception throughout the polygraph charts, but not consistently on all questions."

It also says results of Munn's test were "inconclusive."

The release further claims Spiliotopoulos "uttered a vulgarly" and told Munn "Come in and get me" when the six month veteran deputy ordered the planning commissioner out of the booking "bullpen" at the jail.

While Houchins claims none of the inmates interviewed overheard the conversation between the two, he says they all testified that Spiliotopoulos and Munn fell into a wire fence as the guard tried to pull the former councilman from the cell.

Spiliotopoulos, however, says he was yanked from the booking cell and held by two deputies while another deputy pushed the planning commissioner's head into the mesh.

Attorney John Corley, who answered Spiliotopoulos' midnight call from Santa Rita and represents him in the case, argues that Houchins and is "interpreting" and "selecting" testimony and information to be released.

He also scolded the press for making it a point to publish the California Highway Patrol report "which in fact showed my client was telling the truth when he said he passed the field sobriety test," yet failing to produce verification of Houchins' statements.

"I'm tired of this thing being tried in the press," Houchins said. "I don't think it's proper policy to release the internal investigation... As far as this office is concerned it's a closed matter."

Against claims that Munn's exoneration on the grounds he used "only reasonable and necessary force" implies Spiliotopoulos was in fact resisting arrest, Houchins argued it's simply not so.

"The (press release) does not address the resisting arrest charge, but sets forth the results of the internal investigation," he countered.

The report may show a "technical" violation of the law, but "no criminality" he offered as explanation for the district attorney's office not filing charges.

As for claims his statement is inconsistent with Spiliotopoulos' and hence may demean the planning commissioner's character, the sheriff countered that the deputy, too, may make that charge.

The Alameda County Grand Jury provides a sufficient system of "checks and balances," he said, and the packet of reports would be given over to them if they requested it.

They can't be uncovered by a discovery motion filed with the courts, though, since no charges have been lodged against Spiliotopoulos.

They could, however, be unearthed in a civil suit.

Corley consistently has refused to verify reports that he will file a claim for damages against the county or file a civil suit if the claim is denied.

County planners ponder general plan today

Alameda County Bureau

The Alameda County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing this afternoon on four proposed additions to the county General Plan.

The matter was continued from Aug. 18, when the commissioners felt that the information on the new elements of the General Plan had not been distributed soon enough or widely enough for adequate input.

The four proposed elements involved are the conservation element, the seismic safety element, the safety element and the noise element.

The public hearing is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. at the County Public Works Building in Hayward.

It is possible that the hearing may be once again postponed as several commissioners felt that even more time was needed to thoroughly digest the four lengthy documents.

The battle is still with us

Pleasantonites had thought they had won "the battle over garbage" following two years of spirited opposition. But that Kaiser "reclamation plan" for its pits has found new legislative life, and the county's own Solid Waste Management Report appears to offer little assurance that depleted pits won't still be pursued as an answer to the Bay Area's garbage woes.

A new dinery for a former auto showroom

PLEASANTON — Jay Harris looked around the walls of his tiny establishment, taking in the linoleum floors and the bamboo curtains. "The new place," he said, "will have chandeliers and carpeting."

The old place is the Corral Drive-In, which Harris has run for more than four years. It has seven tables, a sign on the door that says, "Shirts required," and squats at the triangle of Main and First streets like a bright yellow beacon.

Before the year is out, Harris will trade in the working-man atmosphere for a family restaurant that features Mexican food cooked by a woman who makes her own tortillas.

Harris, a bearded 46-year-old, is an easy-going kind who calls, "Hi, guys," when a couple of highway patrolmen come into his drive-in establishment.

But soon he'll be running what he likes to think of as a little more sophisticated operation. Only not too sophisticated.

"I don't want high class and I don't want it to be low brow," he said, offering a reporter a free, large Coke. "If it's a perfect spot for having a cup of coffee and reading the newspapers, then that's my goal."

The new restaurant, which likely will be called the Corral, will be located in the old Edgren Motors building on Main Street.

Plans for the restaurant, which will be leased by Harris, were approved just last week by the city council.

It will be much bigger than the drive-in, which is 840 square feet. It will be 2,340 square feet, Harris says.

His wife, Barbara, as hostess and bookkeeper, will be charged with "making sure everything goes right so I can make a living out of this," Harris said.

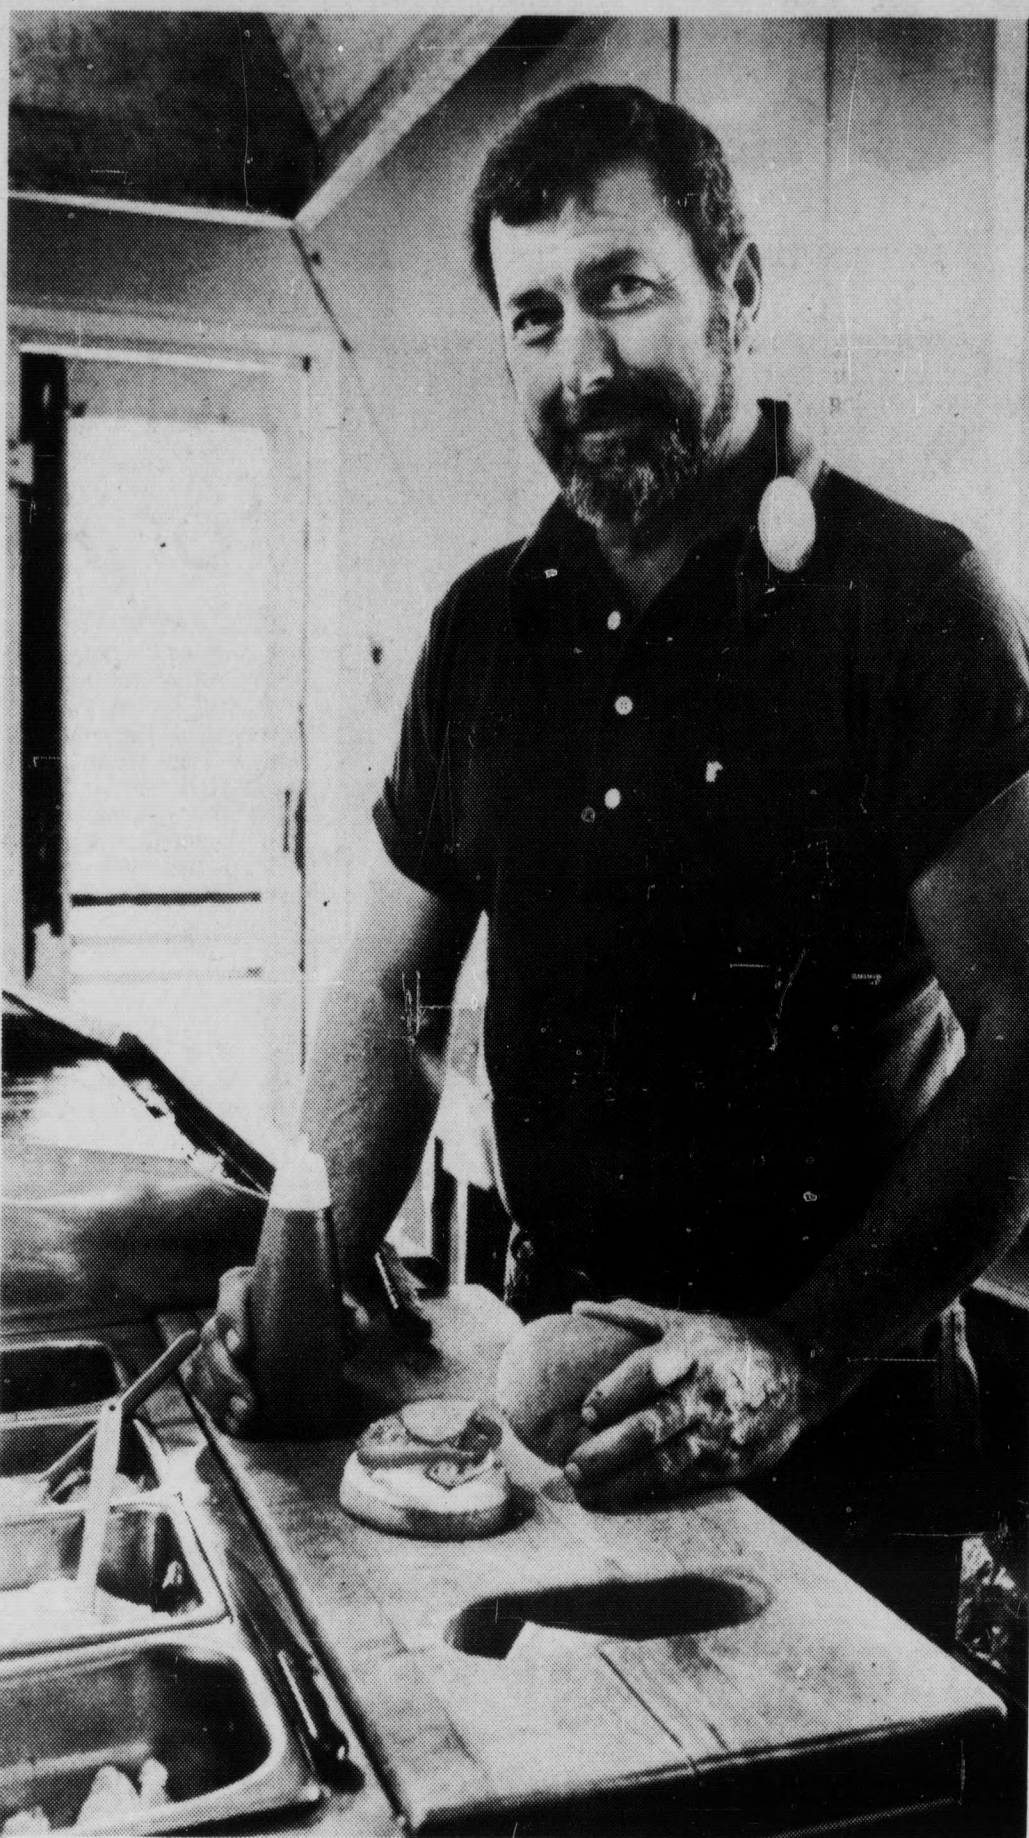

Harris is a former computer salesman who was born and raised in Michigan, and has lived in Pleasanton for seven years.

His restaurant will have an early California theme and will cater to what Harris believes Pleasanton needs by being open much longer hours than his old place was.

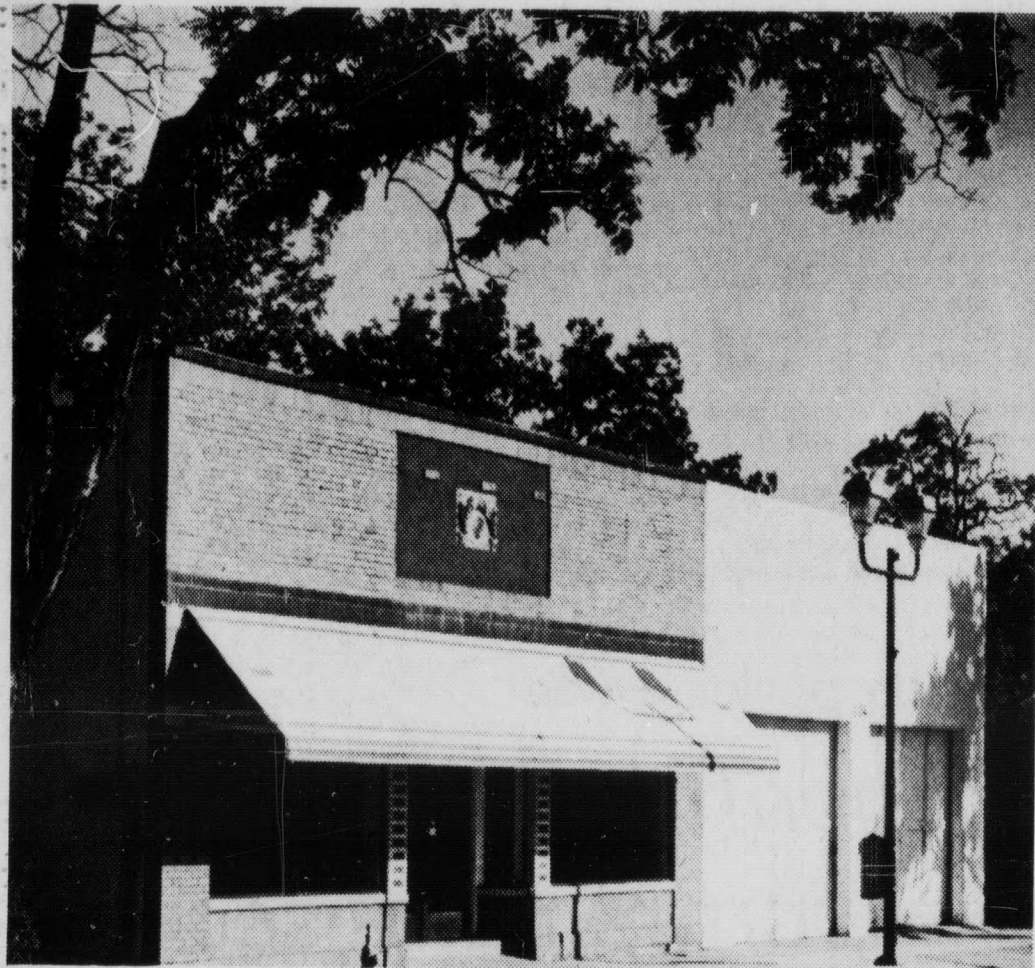

Both the Harris' are enthusiastic.

Mrs. Harris likes to point out that they'll be hiring both males and females to wait on tables. And in the further interest of equality, that meal they serve at nontime will be called a businessperson's lunch.

Harris will lease the new building from Victor Lund Jr., who purchased it from Edgren. Lund, who holds a lease from the city on the Corral Drive-In through May 1978, said it has not been decided what will happen to the drive-in building.

Safety element before planners

Fire spotlighted as top county danger

(Today, the Alameda County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on four proposed additions to the county General Plan. The four are the conservation element, the seismic safety element, the safety element and the noise element. The following is a brief outline of the proposed safety element.)

Man's first great friend — fire — is still his greatest enemy if the proposed Safety Element of the county General Plan is any guide.

Although the report deals with other hazards such as floods, earthquakes, landslides and pollution, fire is clearly singled out as the number one danger to the safety of county citizens.

"The structural fire protection program in the unincorporated communities lacks cohesiveness," the report states. "There is a fragmentation of responsibility with more and more responsibility being assigned to the County Fire Warden."

One solution proposed by the report is the consolidation of some small fire districts into larger units to increase efficiency.

The proposed safety element divides fires into two areas of concern: structural fires and wildland fires.

Structural fires could be limited, the report claims, by having the county impose minimum design standards "as required for adequate fire protection" and also by discouraging "the proliferation of structures, including homes and places of public assembly, in areas lacking a public water supply and/or nearby fire fighting facilities."

Wildland fires are caused by lightning and humans, and in Alameda County, it is estimated that over 90 per cent are caused by man.

The report has no real solution to wildland fires, but does state that "the natural environment should be protected from destruction by fires resulting from human carelessness and lightning."

The second safety hazard dealt with in the proposed element is flooding and two possibilities are considered — dam failure and inundation.

Two dams that could flood large areas before the waters were dissipated into the bay are the Del Valle Dam and the James H. Turner Dam.

The report asks that more study be undertaken on the possibility of the failure of these two dams.

Two areas are listed as flood possibilities if a 100-year flood (a flood so bad it should only happen every 100 years) should take place, and both are in the valley.

The first is a section of the Arroyo de la Laguna south of Bernal Avenue and the second is a section of the Arroyo Mocho east of the Southern Pacific tracks.

The report recommends more extensive county control of areas that might be endangered by flooding but also cautions that "environmentally significant watercourses should be protected from unnecessary flood control works and human developments."

The third safety hazard is environmental and includes air and water pollution — two areas the valley is already dealing with in great detail.

The report states "Urban growth should be channeled into areas which can accommodate such activity without the creation or aggravation of environmental health hazards."

It goes on to say that "Development projects should be strictly limited in sensitive areas where the impact of such development would further intensify existing health hazards."

The section on environmental health hazards concludes by asserting "The county should identify and define specific areas where further or new urban growth would significantly affect the public's health and well-being."

The last hazard covered in geologic, and much of that material overlaps with the seismic safety element.

That element calls for stricter county zoning policies as well as modifications in the building code to insure safety in case of an earthquake.

Autobiography class offered in Livermore

A unique Chabot College course on "Writing Your Own Autobiography" will be offered in the valley for the first time this year.

Starting Sept. 16, "Writing Your Own Autobiography" is primarily aimed at senior citizens who wish to record their own or their family's history. The class will be taught by Carol Markos and will be held at the Senior Citizens' Center at Eighth and H Streets in Livermore.

Fewer students will cost more

WASHINGTON (AP) — The estimated 58.9 million students trooping back to classrooms this fall is the smallest number in recent years, but the cost of educating them has gone up more than 10 per cent from last year.

U.S. Commissioner of Education Terrell H. Bell, in his annual "back-to-school" forecast recently said public and private education costs about $108 billion in the 1974-75 school year.

Total enrollment, from kindergarten through graduate school, will be one-fourth of one per cent lower than the 59.1 million last year.

The biggest decline will be felt in elementary grades as a result of the falling birth rate, Bell said, while the 1976 high school graduating class will be the largest in history and colleges will be awarding more graduate and professional degrees than ever before.

The all-time enrollment at all levels was 59.7 million recorded in the fall of 1971.

Three out of every 10 Americans will be involved in education this fall, Bell said, counting students, 3.1 million classroom teachers and an additional 300,000 superintendents, principals, supervisors and other instructional employees.

Bell said colleges are expected to award about 975,000 bachelor's degrees next spring, the same as 1974-75, but more than last year's 54,000 first-professional degrees, 280,000 master's degrees and 35,000 doctorates.

Obituaries

Earl Marshall

Earl E. Marshall, 54, of Pleasanton, died Thursday, Aug. 28 at Valley Memorial Hospital.

A native of Troy, Ohio, Marshall was a 29 year resident of the valley and a member of the Retail Clerks' Union, Local 1179, Concord.

He is survived by his widow, Elizabeth, of Pleasanton, and children Patrick E. Marshall of Santa Clara; Lucille A. Marshall of Napa; Robert J. Marshall of Garberville; Jean Marshall of Oakland; Mary L. Marshall of Pleasanton; and Bernice Marshall of Pleasanton.

He is also survived by four sisters: Caroline Wright of Piqua, Ohio; Edna McGonagle of Piqua, Ohio; Marjorie Werner of Canton, Ohio; and Eleanor Hyde of New York.

He was the father-in-law of Frances Zaro Marshall and Debra H. Marshall and the son-in-law of Frances River and the late Dr. Joseph P. River.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held today at 10 a.m. at St. Augustine Catholic Church. Burial will follow the service in St. Michael's cemetery in Livermore.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society.

Penelope Bartelheim

Mrs. Penelope (Penney) Bartelheim, a native of San Francisco and a former 10-year resident of San Jose and a resident of Livermore for the past four years, died on Aug. 30 in a local hospital at the age of 81.

She was preceded in death by her husband, August Bartelheim, in 1949.

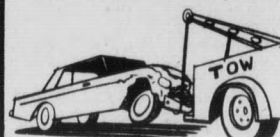

She is survived by a niece, Mrs. Theo Carrell of Livermore.

A Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated for the repose of her soul at St. Michael's, Fourth and Maple, Livermore on Wednesday, Sept. 3, at 10 a.m.

Interment will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. Friends may call at the Chapel of Callaghan Mortuary until 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Best wishes for newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Watkins

James - Watkins

Judy James of Pleasanton became the summer bride of Cecil Watkins of Dublin in an exchange of nuptial vows before the Rev. Samuel Johnson at the United Presbyterian Community Church of Pleasanton.

The bride was accompanied by Matron of Honor Cynthia James, her sister, with bridesmaids Cindy Pugh and Marie Dodge and Flower Girl Bobbie Watkins. Best man was Jack Herick with ushers John James, Jr., and Bud Watkins.

The couple departed on a Southern California honeymoon following a reception at the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge in Dublin.

Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. James of Pleasanton and a 1975 graduate of Dublin High School. Cecil, son of Mrs. Bonnie Watkins and Ray Watkins, is stationed on the U.S.S. Coral Sea at Long Beach, Calif., as an airman apprentice with the U.S. Navy.

The couple resides at Long Beach.

Special guests at the James-Watkins wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Chaney of Wichita Falls, Tex., and Mrs. W.F. Christiansen of Sun Valley, Calif.; and the groom's grandparents, the Rev. and Mrs. Turley of San Francisco.

Old World way

In Yugoslavia, the couple's oldest relative is the first to enter the new household with traditional gifts, bread and salt.

During a Japanese Shinto Wedding, the bride and groom drink rice wine in front of a priest to seal their marriage vows.

Lopp - Reynolds

Wedding bells rang for Linda Lopp and Ronald Reynolds, Jr., at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Livermore. The Rev. Kenneth Streufert officiated at the afternoon wedding ceremony.

Standing with the bride in procession were Matron of Honor Mrs. Frank Taylor and bridesmaids Shirley Martin and Mrs. Ronald Lopp. Bob Barnett was best man with ushers Greg Reynolds and Ronald Lopp.

The couple was feted at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene B. Lopp of Livermore. The new Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Reynolds, Jr., honeymooned at San Simeon and Long Beach, Calif.

Linda, a 1970 graduate of Livermore High School, attended Chabot College. Ronald, son of Mrs. Barbara Reynolds and Ronald Reynolds, Sr., is a 1973 graduate of Granada High School. He is owner and manager of Appliance Parts Supply where Linda is employed as a salesclerk.

The couple has made a first home at 3927 First St., Livermore.

Bilyeu - Jones

An afternoon informal garden wedding was the scene for the marriage of Susan Julie Bilyeu and William Robert Jones. David Mitchell of Santa Rosa officiated at the ceremony while Jack Davies of Fairhaven Bible Chapel gave the opening prayer.

Michelle Bilyeu, sister of the bride, was in attendance as maid of honor. Ring bearers were Jonathan Angst and Braughman Johnson. Acting as best man was William Johnson while Timothy Bilyeu was usher.

Following a reception, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon along the Northern California coast. They are now at home on Franklin Avenue, Santa Rosa.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bilyeu, and a graduate of Dublin High School, University of California, Berkeley and California Center for Biblical Studies in Los Angeles.

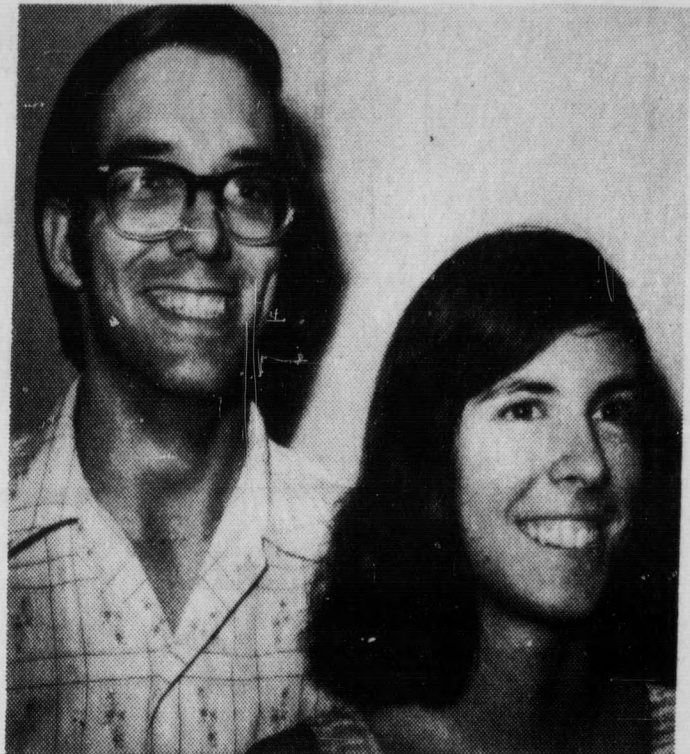

William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones of Washington, graduate of Cal State University, Sonoma and also California Center for Biblical Studies is employed as a supervising life guard.

Singleton - Zumstein

Mr. and Mrs. John Singleton of Pleasanton have announced the engagement of their daughter Sue to Jim Zumstein of Livermore.

Sue, a 1973 graduate of Amador Valley High School, is employed by the Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corporation. Jim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zumstein of Fremont, is an electronic engineer with the Lockheed Missile and Space Corporation. Both graduated from Chabot College.

No date has been set for the wedding.

SUE SINGLETON AND JIM ZUMSTEIN

Ross - Elliston

Mrs. Elliston is the former Linda Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ross of Dublin and a graduate of Dublin High School. She is employed with Title Insurance and Trust Company in Dublin.

William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elliston and also employed with Title Insurance and Trust Company. The bride chose Pat Merrill to be her maid of honor and Lynn Hayes and Bev Ross as bridesmaids. She was given in marriage by her father.

Tom Elliston served as best man while Kim Spencer and Tom Seggerman performed the duties of ushers.

Following the wedding ceremony, the young couple was honored at a reception at the Veterans Memorial Hall in Lafayette.

Di Giulio - Zilli

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Di Giulio of Fremont announced the engagement of their daughter Carol to Serge Zilli of Tracy at a garden party and champagne dinner for forty guests. Among guests in attendance from the bride-elect's immediate family were Mr. and Mrs. Ron Di Giulio and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lombardi and family, Mrs. Egizia Raghianti, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Di Giulio, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Yuhase and Mrs. Lou Chericoni.

School means playgrounds, too

The best part of getting back to school is the new and old friendships and, in some cases, helping shape up a new playgroundsuch as the one being completed at Walnut Grove School in Pleasanton. Work is also underway on a similar playground at Alisal School. Pleasanton and Amador schools convene Thursday, Livermore one day earlier.

Amador - Pleasanton personnel hub

Carl Krause is Assistant Superintendent for Personnel with Amador and Pleasanton school districts. Here, Krause goes over staffing matters with personnel secretary Bev Lester. His duties involve over 900 certificated and classified employees in the two districts. Mrs. Lester notes that the department processes approximately 1,000 applications for teaching jobs per year. Of this number, 11 have been hired for the 1975-76 school year.

Times to cheer for our team

With the resumption of school comes club and athletic activities. These young ladies at Dublin High School, along with many other cheer leaders and song girls at valley high schools, took part in summer pep camps.

Gael pepsters above came home with a flock of ribbons, trophies and spirit sticks, not to mention Sparkplug Trophy, from camp at UC Santa Cruz.

State teachers' salary twice that of 1965

Sacramento... The 1974-75 median salary paid California's public school teachers was $14,271 — nearly twice as high as the median salary of $7,563 paid a decade ago, according to a new report released by the California State Department of Education. Statistics compiled by the department's Bureau of School Apportionments and Reports also show that elementary district superintendents had a median salary of $30,600.

A median salary, a department spokesman explained, means that one-half the salaries are higher and one-half are lower.

The report said 15 percent of the state's 187,000 full-time teachers had salaries of $17,400 or more in 1974-75; .8 per cent had salaries below $8,400. The annual percentage increase of the median salary of teachers over the past decade was 4.7 per cent in 1964-65 over 1973-74, 5.1 per cent in 1965-66, 5 per cent in 1966-67, 6.5 per cent in 1967-68, 6.3 per cent in 1968-69, 7.9 per cent in 1969-70, 7.4 per cent in 1970-71, 4.5 per cent in 1971-72, 6.5 per cent in 1972-73, 7.5 per cent in 1973-74 and 10.6 per cent in 1974-75.

The median salary for elementary school principals last year was $23,046, compared to $19,748 in 1972-73; and for high school principals it was $24,694, compared to $21,783 in 1972-73. Other 1974-75 median salaries: elementary district superintendent-principals, $22,957; high school district superintendents, $27,900; librarians, $16,221; counselors, $18,437; psychologists, $18,872 and school nurses, $14,144.

The report shows that the number of pupils enrolled in a district is related to the amount of salaries paid. Teachers' median salaries ranged from $10,810 in elementary districts enrolling fewer than 200 pupils to $14,310 in districts enrolling more than 10,000 pupils. In high school districts, teachers' median salaries ranged from $11,536 in districts enrolling more than 10,000 pupils. Salaries of superintendents of unified school districts ranged from $19,000 to $28,599 in districts enrolling fewer than 1,000 pupils. They rose to a range of $20,800 to $36,399 in districts with 1,000 to 3,999 pupils, $25,000 to $47,199 in districts with 4,000 to 9,999 pupils, and $28,000 to $54,399 in districts with more than 10,000 pupils.

The report also indicates that 62 per cent of the teachers are women. Five hundred and seventy-two women are serving as elementary school principals, 53 are serving as high school principals. Only nine women are serving as superintendents of the state's 1,054 school districts.

Copies of the reports on teachers' and administrators' salaries for 1974-75 may be obtained at no cost by writing to Bureau of School Apportionments and Reports, P.O. Box 271, Sacramento, CA 94802

Falcons soaring at Foothill

Neil Sweeney, Amador-Pleasanton Assistant Superintendent for Instructional Services, looks over blossoming Foothill High School campus in Pleasanton. School will enter its third year officially Thursday with estimated 1,050 students expected. School will have freshmen, sophomore and junior students. Amador district schools start classes Thursday at 8 a.m. Daily dismissal time is 2:10 p.m. at all district schools—Foothill, Amador and Dublin.

Good morning, teachers

Superintendent of Schools Leo Croce (at left in chef's hat and apron) welcomes the Livermore Unified School District's 30-odd new teachers at an earlybird breakfast in the Livermore High Student Union. The Friday meeting brought together school principals, district-level administrators (who served coffee and food in their little white outfits) and employ organization representatives to kick off the new school year. Times photo by Pat Kennedy

Today's hand is almost the same as yesterday's. South has opened a 15-point notrump, either because he likes to live dangerously or because he counts an extra point for the fifth club.

The final contract is a good one. It will make against a 4-3 spade break if the club finesse works or if a spade isn't opened. However, a spade is opened. South looks at dummy's 11 points plus 10-spot and wonders how he will explain failure if the game does not make.

Your Birthday

Sept. 2, 1975

You'll be offered a couple of interesting business propositions this coming year through new acquaintances. Screen them carefully; one has promise, the other's a loser.

astrograph

by Bernice Bede O'Neil

For Tuesday, Sept. 2, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't try to attend to several important matters today at the same time. You'll wind up with an even bigger muddle.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's not a good day to tackle trying mental tasks. Your thoughts won't be well-organized. Major mistakes will result.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's a bad time to assume additional financial obligations. Live within your means, or you'll be robbing Peter to pay Paul.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you expect anything done right today you're going to have to do it. Don't attempt to delegate responsibilities.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In order to be a good guy you're apt to make some promises today you won't really mean. They'll be difficult to fulfill.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Someone you're fond of might put you on the spot today by making a request that will cost you out-of-pocket if you comply.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This could be a tough day for you responsibility-wise, yet you must meet obligations head-on. Don't sweep anything under the rug.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

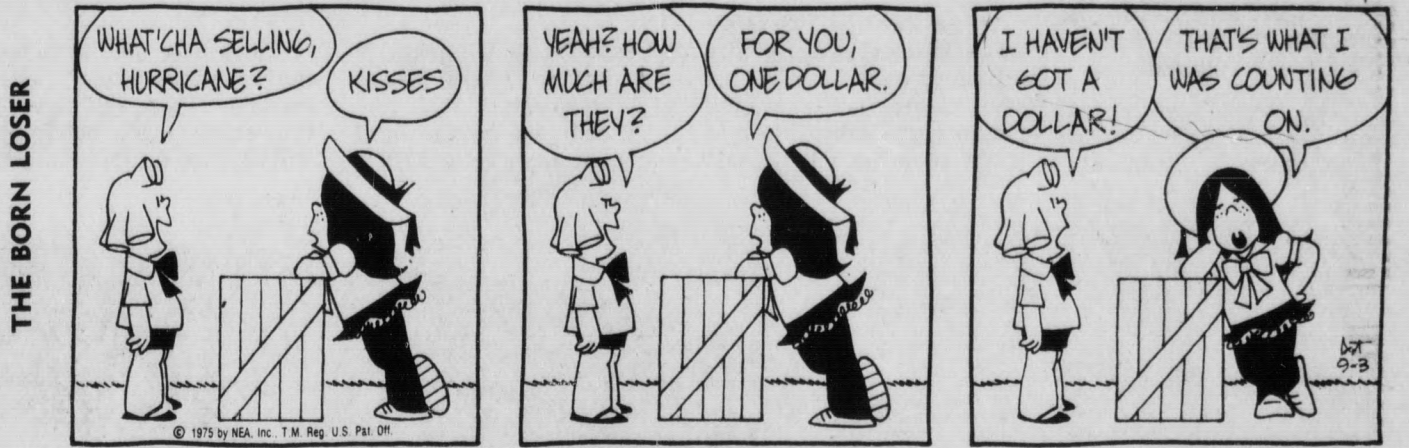

You're going to meet opposition today regarding an issue you feel very strongly about. Neither party will yield.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be very careful today how you handle property of others. Don't ask to borrow your friend's car to run errands.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your one-to-one relations will cause you a few headaches today. Even an old ally may make some unreasonable demands.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your work habits are likely to be a bit slovenly today especially if you're asked to do something you think is beneath you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're prone to either be extravagant or take material risks today that have little chance of paying off. Stick with sure things.

Calkins steps down from Glad post

Sixty-five candidates have reported for Chabot College's opening football drills in preparation for the 1975 season.

With the start of practice came the announcement that Keith Calkins, head coach since 1968, is stepping down on a one-season basis. Terry Cagaanan, an assistant for the past five years, will replace Calkins this season.

"I'm stepping down until the end of the season because of an illness in my family,"

Calkins explained. "It is a different type of coaching change. I need some extra time to be with my family."

Under Calkins, the Gladiators have compiled an enviable 49-13-2 record that includes three Golden Gate Conference titles. Last year's team finished 6-3-1.

"I just won't be able to assume the total responsibility for the program," Calkins said. "In terms of coaching assignment, I will be involved in the same capacity as last year, but Terry will handle administrative duties and scouting reports.

"I want to have the flexibility to come and go and still be able to make a contribution. No matter what people think, the success of our program has always been based on coaching staff responsibility."

Cagaanan, 34, has helped in coaching the defense for the past three years.

"I will just be the head coach on an interim basis," Cagaanan said. "Our program has been very successful under Keith and I hope to continue it that way. Nothing is really changing. He will still be coaching the offensive line while I will be helping with the defense."

Calkins said Cagaanan will make the final coaching decisions.

"He will be able to make the changes, he wants," Calkins said. "There will be very little change made, but Terry will have the flexibility to put in his own ideas."

Cagaanan reported the Gladiators have come up with an excellent crop of freshmen to go with their 22 returning lettermen. He singled out first year men Rei De LaFiguere (Arroyo) and Monte Pearson (Pacific) as doing a good job in the offensive line, which includes such returning veterans as Centers Tom Dahms and Rob Castleman, Guards Phil Barry and Greg Goodwin, and Tackle Bill Ackerman.

The offense has three excellent freshmen hopefuls to back up sophomore quarterback Don Moore. The three are Chuck Stevenson (Marina), Steve Grant (Dublin) and Ron Jones (San Lorenzo).

Available as running backs and wide receivers are veterans Rick Camara, Robert Bruce, and Darryl Ashley to combine with freshmen Curtis Bledsoe (Mt. Eden), Harold Jones (Irvington), Joe Roman (Kennedy), Harry Major (Tennyson), Alvin Mundy, Troy Roberson (Dublin), and veteran Matt Garcia.

Tom Ferguson, a wing back last season, has been moved to wide receiver. Freshman Ron Foreman (Livermore) can play either wide receiver or defensive back.

On defense, the Gladiators can rely on veteran down linemen Dave Shaw and Craig Rochin; Roy Franco, a red-shirt last year, and freshmen Rob Galant (Dublin), Randy Candelario (Moreau) and Mark Robinson (Pacific).

The linebackers include letterman Dave Reno, Tony Lagorio, Bennie Rayford, Matt Scanlon and newcomers Stanley Hunt (Hayward), Richard Guttierrez (Granada), Gayue Gonzales (Sunset) and Louis Quintero (Tennyson).

Veterans Len Eisen, Bill Foltmer, Dan Guaraglia and Doug Westphal head the defensive secondary, backed up by freshmen Ricky Franklin, Harold Pearson, and Neil Moore, all from Hayward High, and Sinclair Savage. Moore may also be used as a wide receiver.

"We're optimistic," Cagaanan says in assessing the Gladiators. "But the conference gets tougher each year and is well balanced. Every game can be a dog fight. We feel we have the talent to put it together — a potent offense and good defensive personnel. How well we do depends upon how we perform here at the start of the season and how much concentration we show as the season progresses."

Enthusiastic Cal hails grid future

SAN RAMON — 1975-6 will dawn on California High School as more than just another school year.

First, the school will have its initial graduating class, 75 students strong. Second, its enrollment is expected to exceed 1000. And finally, the school will have its first varsity football team, coached by four newcomers.

Preparing for the future, the Grizzlies have combined quality personnel, competent coaching and organization to build, hopefully, an EBAL contender by 1976.

"The community is really willing to support us," reflected Mike McGinnis, assistant varsity coach. "Parents are supportive and we just started a booster's club."

Dick Nodlinski, who came to Cal in 1972 and has built a solid athletic program, is in his first year as a varsity coach. McGinnis, a San Ramon High product, is assisting along with Tom Zechlin, via San Marin. Both are in their first year at Cal.

At the JV level, two more new faces, Fred Albano, Berkeley, and Dennis Regalado, Carlmont, will take the reins.

While Nodlinski was preparing some films during a break in Friday's split session workout, McGinnis and Zechlin offered their views on the upcoming season.

Though only 23 players turned out for varsity ball on the first day of practice last Monday, Zechlin is not worried a bit.

"Our numbers aren't that great, but we've got a lot of proven potential if we can stay healthy," offered Zechlin.

"Three-fourths of our team is sophomores and we have only four seniors," said Zechlin. "Just wait, with a couple of years experience, we'll be great."

"About the only thing lacking now is size."

Playing an independent schedule, the Grizzlies open against Tamalpais in an organized scrimmage then face Pacifica (West Pittsburg) Sept. 13 at Mt. Diablo High in Concord. John Swett (Crockett), Robert Louis Stevenson (Monterey) and Mesa Verde (Sacramento) will be three other non-league games.

Cal is also faced with back-to-back EBAL encounters: with Monte Vista and Granada, though the Grizzlies will not be competing for the league title.

"Heck," remarked Zechlin, "we lost to Granada's JV, 8-6, last year. We'll give them a game this year."

Anchoring the versatile veer option offense (something new for '75) is a pair of sophs, Tom Woodmansee and Tyler Laurie. Both played frosh ball a year ago.

"In two years," Zechlin commented, "Woodmansee and Laurie are going to be tough."

An aggressive threesome of linemen Dan Nelson, Paul Lee and Steve Schleiger will power the Grizzlies throughout the campaign. Zechlin added, "Nelson is a great lineman, he's the toughest we have."

In the rushing department, Chris Miller rates near the top thus far. AS for deep threats, McGinnis, a frosh coach at San Ramon last year, said, "Most of our receivers are inexperienced, but Tom and Tyler can throw."

Defensively, Cal will work out of a 5-2 set formation. Almost all of the 23 varsity players will go both ways.

Zechlin, sipping on a tab, concluded, "We've scheduled some competitive teams. There's no doubt we're going to win this year. Everyone's so enthusiastic."

Ballistic returns

CALGARY, Alberta — Neither Ballistic entry in this weekend's Calgary youth soccer tournament won its division, though both did fairly well. The setbacks were not a complete surprise as the Pleasanton squads; United under-12 and Dynamo under-16, were faced with playing teams whose cutoff ages were a year older than their own.

The under-12 side made it to Sunday's semi-finals before losing a 4-1 match to Calgary's top team, Huntington Hills. Scott Wilcox scored the lone Ballistic goal from six yards out.

"We played well enough to win," said Ballistic coach Harry Miller, "but our shots just wouldn't hit the net." Huntington Hills was upset, 1-0, by another Calgary team in the finals.

The Calgary Soccer Association invited top teams from four provinces with the Ballistics the only American team in the event.

Of the Canadian booters, Miller said, "They play their soccer like hockey, rugged, with lots of body checking."

The under-16 Dyanamos were shut out 4-0 in the first round of the tourney Saturday before topping Renfrow of Calgary, 4-1, and losing, 6-0, from one of Winnipeg's top teams Sunday.

"Our boys played very well and were real crowd pleasers," said Dynamo coach Jay Clifton. "But the Canadian kids play a more rugged brand of soccer."

Clifton went on to list Chris Henry, Mike Cerdan and Steve Kent as standouts for the Ballistic side. Yesterday the teams played exhibition games. The U-12's lost a 6-0 game to Tri-Wood while the U-16's were stopped by Lakeview, 2-0.

Both teams are expected to arrive at the Acquatic Center between 1 and 1:30 p.m. today for "welcome home" festivities.

Lawson Bryant slain

Lowly Mustangs hope for better

"We're humble till we prove ourselves." — Jim Nelson

ALAMO — Encased by the majestic foothills of Mt. Diablo, horse or cow chip more or less illustrates the settlements pastime. Monte Vista High School, known for uncontenting football teams, opened practice for its 1975 campaign a week ago.

Jim Nelson, a 1962 graduate of Chico State who began his coaching career as an assistant at Alhambra High School in Martinez in 1963, replaces Derrell Kennedy as head coach this fall.

Assisting Nelson are George Cockerton and Roger MacMasters.

The trio greeted some 55 players, 12 from last year's varsity, who are trying out for varsity and JV football. The staff plans to keep 27-30 on the varsity of whom 16-17 will be seniors.

"Physically, we're in pretty good shape," said Nelson, "this year's club is a big improvement over last year's. We've gained a lot of experience in the past couple of years."

Greg Goodman, last year's starting quarterback, will be calling the plays this season, while junior Phil Wood will back him up.

Offensively, the Mustangs will go with the same triple option system initiated by Kennedy in '74.

In the offensive Returning letterman Brent Smedman will anchor the offensive backfield as he will start at fullback. Vying for the vacant tailback spots are Kurt Billingsly, Mark Van Tine, Bill Fowler, Roy Clements, Mike Florenza and Steve Burke.

Lawson Bryant, who transferred from Richmond High a year ago and was one of the East Bay Athletic League's top running backs, was murdered during the off season in the Oil City.

No transfers have reported to camp this fall.

"We're fair at most positions and have good depth," offered the first year coach while munching on a lawn clipping. He added, "We've got a pretty well-rounded group of kids, we're hanging together."

A new dimension will be added to the Mustang defense this year as Nelson is working on multiple stratagems. "That's the phase of our game," Nelson explained, "primarily building a stronger defense. The kids are really adapting to it well."

MacMasters, an Acalanes (Lafayette) teacher, is handling the defensive chores.

Three reasons why the rich get richer.

The rich have it so much easier than us. They can be happy driving Toyotas and Pintos. While we need the status of Buicks and Porsches. They're perfectly relaxed in old tennis shoes and baggy sweaters. While we feel uncomfortable in anything less than double-knit slacks and expensive loafers. Worst of all, they mix up delicious bloody marys, superb screwdrivers, and impeccable martinis with Royal Gate Vodka. While we would feel like social paupers if we didn't pay at least five bucks a bottle for some vodka with a "Russian" name. It's really not fair. The rich see no shame in saving money.

IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE

If you are taking medications and still suffer from symptoms such as high blood pressure, digestive problems, heart and lung conditions or nervous symptoms, then it's time for a change. Let the "greatest healer" in the world do the healing—the life within your body. Chiropractic lets your body heal itself by letting the impulses travel over the nerves from the brain to the tissue cells without any interference. Do not cover up your symptoms and pollute your blood stream with dangerous drugs. Chiropractic finds and helps correct the cause of your lack of health and lets your body build its own natural immunity.

Heritage Valley finally makes it

After three years of intensive effort, including several redesigns to comply with community thinking, Morrison Homes finally unveiled its "Heritage Valley" subdivision this past week. Civic officials turned out for the opening of model homes in the "popular price" range. Seen here at the ribbon cutting ceremonies were (from left) John Griffin, project manager for Morrison Homes; L.B. "Woody" Pereira, central regional manager; Margaret Davis, sales assistant; Chan Henderson, manager of the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce; and Lori Hickman, Maid of Alameda County. Heritage Valley will occupy 90 acres on the east side of Santa Rita Road.

A new post office for Pleasanton

Construction is scheduled to start this fall on a new post office to serve Pleasanton and that township. Bids will be opened Sept. 9 for the handsome facility that will occupy the corner site at Black Avenue and Santa Rita Road. A postal authority says 300 construction days are allowed to complete the job. This artist's rendering shows the "Spanish influence" planned in the exterior design. The new postal center will replace the overcrowded facility on South Main Street.

Livermore plan board ponders new gravel quarry on Stanley

LIVERMORE — In keeping with the spirit of the Labor Day holiday, the planning commission will not meet this week.

The next regularly scheduled commission meeting will be held Sept. 9 at which time only two items will be considered. A study session will follow the brief meeting. Scheduled for consideration at the Sept. 9 meeting are the Environmental Impact Report for redevelopment plans of Cal Rock and Pacific Cement and Aggregates for a quarry and an official commission position on off-street parking in the downtown area.

During September, commission meetings are scheduled for the Tuesdays of the 16 and 30 with a study session on the 23.

Jim Sadler, the newest appointee to the commission (he is replacing John Staley) is expected to assume his seat at the meeting and study session of Sept. 9.

Pleasanton private school appealed

PLEASANTON — Paul and Elizabeth Marshall will appeal an Aug. 15 planning commission decision that denied them a Montessori school on Sycamore Road when they appear before the city council at its 8 p.m. meeting Sept. 22.

The school's appropriateness in a semi-rural area was questioned by some neighborhood residents who spoke in opposition to it before the commission.

Council will meet in the Pleasanton Justice Court at 30 W. Angela St.

Watercolor paint class starting

Chabot College will offer an Introduction to Watercolor Painting class from 7 until 9:50 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays starting Sept. 15 at Granada High School in Livermore.

The class will explore the materials, methods and techniques of transparent watercolor painting, including its effects and possibilities. Lectures and studio work are scheduled.

Dorothy Timourian is the teacher. She has gained attention for her exhibits in numerous local, county and state shows.

Enrollment is open to individuals 18 years and over. There is no tuition fee but students must provide their own supplies.

But were afraid (ouch) to ask

Everything you ever wanted to know about mosquitoes

LIVERMORE — Some little publicized facts about mosquitoes in the valley came to light recently as a result of questions put to the Alameda County Mosquito Abatement District by City Councilman John Staley.

For example, there are a dozen species of mosquitoes that have been found in the Livermore area produced from a variety of sources — drainage ditches, creeks, rain pools, catch basins, storm drains, gutters, gravel pits, irrigated pastures, sewer ponds, fish ponds, cemetery urns and improperly maintained swimming pools.

Also, the district, which was formed in 1930, now has a total operating budget of more than $300,000. The district tax rate during the 1974-75 fiscal year was $.009, which generated a total of almost $10,000 from the City of Livermore.

That amount equals about 20 cents for each citizen or $1.12 a year for an owner of a $50,000 house, according to a fact sheet prepared by the district.

Staley, who has been on the city council since May, began questioning the expenditures listed in the district's monthly reports to Livermore from the first.

His concern was aimed at what he considered the relatively large percentage of the budget expended each month for maintenance as compared to the low percentage expended for control activities.

The figures indicated to him an inefficiency in the organization * contention that was refuted during a special presentation at a council meeting by Fred Roberts, abatement district manager.

Armed with fact sheets and statistics, Roberts demonstrated how 19.9 per cent of the total 1975 budget (through July) was spent on administration; 58.1 per cent, field operations; 14.8 per cent, maintenance, and 7.2 per cent, other (training, vacation and sick leave).

After closely questioning Roberts, Staley still was not satisfied that an accurate overview of the abatement district had been obtained but has indicated he believes there are more important matters for council consideration and the mosquito matter will go on the back burner.

Additional information supplied by Roberts to the council explained that citizens with mosquito problems (or difficulties with other flying insects that bite) should contact the district in Oakland, 553-7321; Pleasanton, 846-2586, or Union City, 471-1822. Offices in Pleasanton and Union City are open between 8 to 8:30 a.m. and 4 to 4:30 p.m.

Tips for preventing breeding places for mosquitoes include: fish ponds — stock with fish (provided by the district), remove excess vegetation, construct properly; swimming pools — empty or tightly cover when not in use, keep water off cover, chlorinate or plant fish; tree hole — fill with sand or mortar, remove limb or tree; plastic pools — empty or tightly cover when not in use, stock with fish; containers — empty, invert, dispose, or cover to prevent mosquito from entering; bird bath — change water frequently, at least once a week; sump — construct so that water does not stand, screen to prevent mosquito entrance, flush out weekly; basement drain (dampness permits dry rot and termites to damage structure; standing water — eliminate by draining, filling depression; watering trough — stock with fish, change water weekly; coolerdrain — prevent water from standing; creek — clean obstructions, promote flow, remove or fill side pot holes, stock with fish, do not dump litter or garden debris; gutters and catch basins and storm drains — do not dispose of litter and garden debris in gutter or basins, do not over water yard.

The district also points out that leaves and debris have a tendency to clog gutters and drains, which is when the mosquitoes move in. Water than stands for three and one-half days provides a perfect breeding place for mosquitoes.

Dublin Hotline funding will get county board review tonight

Alameda County Bureau

The Dublin Hotline's revenue sharing request will finally be considered the Alameda County Board of Supervisors at its meeting at 8:30 tonight in the County Administration Building in Oakland.

Hotline, along with many other agencies that depend on revenue sharing monies for their survival, was hurt by the general cutback in funds that affected all agencies funded by the county.

Their request was more than double what was allocated them by a revenue sharing review committee, and their appeal before the supervisors will be heard tonight.

The board will also discuss the status and future of three somewhat controversial commissions — the Welfare Commission, the Commission on the Status of Women and the Advisory Commission on Aging.

The work session was continued from July 29.

County Administrator Loren Enoch will also present the board with two letters concerning the economic situation in the county.

The first communication deals with the overall economic development program while the second discusses the salary appropriation deficit.

The supervisors will also officially adopt the tax rates for special districts in the county such as the Valley Community Services District, school districts and so on.

Livermore downtown median

Construction of a concrete median complete with landscaping that will separate traffic on First Street from Q Street to the signal at the intersection with Holmes Street has begun. Much of the area of First Street where the median will go in now is separated by double double yellow lines.

Dale Carnegie course comes to Livermore's Holiday Inn for September session

LIVERMORE — Want to learn how to make friends and influence people? A Dale Carnegie course, scheduled to begin here in September, may be for you.

According to John Marron, area manager for Dale Carnegie Courses, classes will be under his direction and that of area representative Tim Drake.

Classes now are forming and will be held at the Holiday Inn in Livermore. For more information, call 443-4950.

Dale Carnegie Courses are in their 63rd year, a press release by the organization states. The classes are designed to help men and women of all ages to become effective in utilizing more of their personal abilities, the release explains.

"Class members are shown how to increase their self confidence, improve their human relations skills and leadership ability, develop the ability to communicate more effectively either on a person to person basis or with groups and also how to control tension and worry," the organization states.

Both Marron and Drake will be available to give talks and conduct workshops and clinics on various aspects of personal growth and they have been invited to be the guests at several local service clubs.

PARACHUTISTS ARE ALSO A RESPONSIBILITY

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — As a result of the drowning of 16 parachutists in Lake Erie in 1967, the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court in Cincinnati has ruled that the responsibility of air traffic controllers extends to parachutists as well as to airplanes and their passengers. So says the Research Group Inc. here, a legal research service for attorneys.

California Taxpayers 'surprised' by survey

Business pays over half of California taxes

A state taxpayers' group has turned out a report that shows businesses pay a larger share of the tax burden than most people had probably realized.

The author of the report, Bob Guilleaume, said he was surprised.

"When you're talking about economic well-being and recovery, you need to stimulate business and capital investment — not increase their taxes," he said.

California has the second highest per capita state and local taxes, behind only New York, in the nation.

The group, the California Taxpayers' Association, found that business is saddled with 50.7 percent of the taxes in the state. It pays 66 percent of the property taxes.

The association is made up of some businesses, but it is a non-profit organization that also includes local homeowners, Guilleaume said.

He said there has been a "fairly substantial antibusiness stance among legislators" — a stance that the association feels could in the long run hurt the state.

"Increased tax liability has made California a place to avoid," said the report, noting that some firms had chosen to move out.

"And yet at least 200,000 jobs must be created each year just to prevent a rise in the already high unemployment rate."

Guilleaume noted in his report that increased taxes are usually passed along to the consumer.

Another surprise was the disparity in the rates that state and local taxes increase. The state has control over a variety of areas, and the income tax is particularly elastic.

As incomes increase, so does the revenue generated for the state from income taxes. But the property taxes that local governments rely upon are much slower to climb.

"Unless they've really asserted themselves," Guilleaume said, "localities are having fiscal troubles because they are limited in what they can tax."

Some of the report's more interesting findings follow:

Individuals pay 47.1 percent of all state and local taxes, 61 percent of sales taxes, 86 percent of personal income taxes, 33.2 percent of payroll taxes and 34 percent of property taxes.

Business pays 50.7 percent of state and local taxes. This includes 66 percent of property taxes, 30 percent of sales taxes, 66.8 percent of payroll taxes and 100 percent of bank and corporation taxes.

Figures used to represent business and individual taxes may not add up to 100 percent due to rounding off and government contributions.

In 1973-74, the most recent year figures are available, cigarette taxes brought the state $259 million. Horseracing generated $78.3 million in taxes.

Other motor vehicle taxes added up to a whopping $1.4 billion, including gasoline, license, registration and other taxes and fees.

Alcoholic beverages brought in $119.3 million, 85 percent of it paid by individuals.

BICENTENNIAL FACTS
Orphaned Peter Francisco, put ashore from a ship anchored near Hopewell, Va., was reared by Judge Anthony Winston, an uncle of Patrick Henry. Francisco grew into a 6-foot, 6-inch giant of some 260 pounds and joined the 10th Virginia Regiment. Francisco's military career during the Revolutionary War became legend. His trademark became a 5-foot broadsword Gen. Washington had ordered made for him. Surviving the war and settling down to a prosperous life, Francisco accompanied his friend Lafayette on a tour of Virginia during the General's return visit to America in 1824. The World Almanac recalls.
